

BigFix provides global control and visibility.

IBM BigFix delivers an end-to-end approach. A single unified console enables visibility throughout the environment that correlates vulnerability intelligence to the detailed configuration of each endpoint. This gives organizations an immediate, up-to-date and accurate view throughout their operations essential to assuring continuous compliance demands. BigFix not only delivers typical endpoint operations relevant to security such as software distribution or configuration management, but also the direct management of endpoint security functionality.

Highlights:

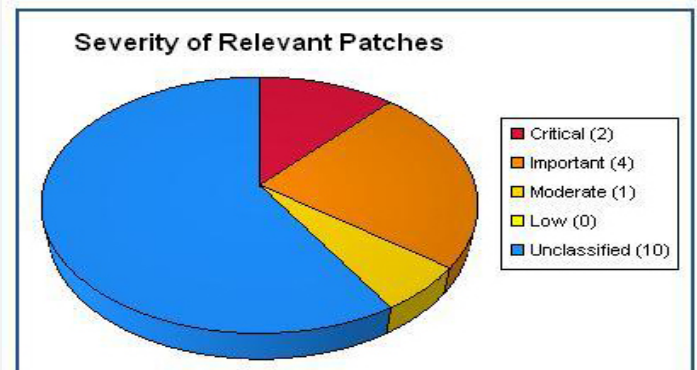

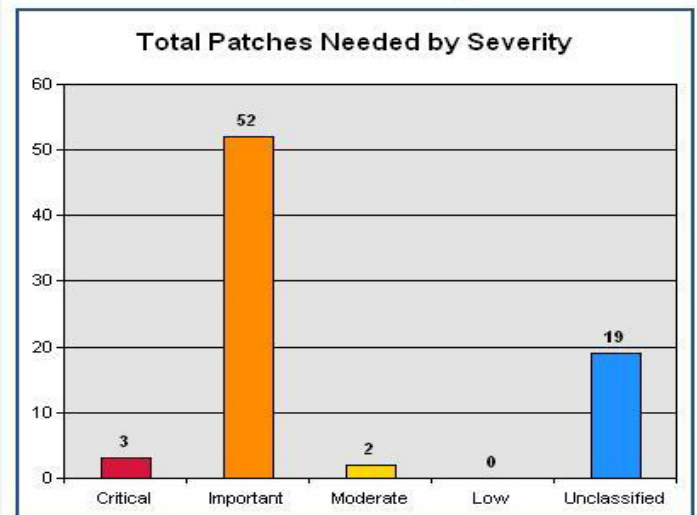

- > Identify, Manage and report on policy exceptions and deviations with security and compliance analytics.
- > Leverage a single infrastructure and console to manage.
- > all devices. Smartphone, tablets, PC's and servers.
- > Deliver real-time endpoint protection against viruses, Trojan Horses, Spyware Rootkits and other malware.
